BETTER METHOD OF LEGISLATION

Recommended by Secretary of State.

In Biennial Report Secretary Grimes
States That General Laws Would Do Away With Hundreds of Local Laws—
Thirty Days Notice Should Be Given
Before Any Law Is Enacted—Other Recommendations.

Raleigh, Dec. 16.—In his biennial report to Gov. Kitchin and the General Assembly Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes recommends a number of reforms in the legislative department; the enrolling office and the engrossing office. Also the daily printing of the journals of both houses. Furthermore he urges that the Legislature rid itself of the necessity of enacting separately a great number of little local bills that should be taken care of under a general law. He complains that during the 1909 session more than 65 per cent of all the acts passed were enrolled and ratified during the last ten days of the session, this being injurious to the state and a menace to safe legislation. Many of these bills were never read by committees. It seems imperative, the secretary of state declares, that some plan should be devised to correct this congestion at the close of the sessions. He points out that of the 1,319 laws comprising 2,391 pages enacted by the 1909 General Assembly only 174 were strictly public laws, making 262 pages of necessary legislation that, perhaps could not be attended to except by legislative enactment. The others he enumerates as local bills of great variety. He insists that the state constitution should be amended so that it would require more than three-fourths of these matters to be disposed of under general laws.

Col. Grimes points out that records, or local courts could be established through joint action of county commissioners and justices of the peace with referendum to the voters; pay of jurors and numbers of other minor officers of the county now involved in numerous legislative acts could be provided for under a general act; a general road law presenting alternate systems all under the control of a state highway engineer and allowing commissioners and magistrates to put in operation such system as best suited their counties with referendum to the voters should be adopted; police powers, sale laws, stock laws and such matters should be put under general laws; drainage should be provided for under general law. He points out, too that it would somewhat stop the flood of private laws passed by the legislature at the close of sessions if the constitutional mandate of 30 days notice of application to pass such law were rigidly insisted upon. The flood of corporation charters could be reduced greatly by leaving most of them to the general law which is ample to take care of them.

Col. Grimes recommends the creation of the position of legislative reference librarian who should systematize the storing of legislative bills that are now jumbled in unintelligible masses in dark closets about the state buildings. He outlines a variety of valuable services to which this officer could be put so that he would be a useful and economical officer for the state.

Col. Grimes urgently recommends that the state secure the remainder of the two blocks bounded by Edenton, Jones, Wilmington and Salisbury streets, part of which is now occupied by the old agricultural and supreme court buildings, and erect thereon modern fireproof administration buildings that would meet the requirements of the state for fifty years to come and put an end to the expense of storage rentals the state is now paying out besides assuring the safety of state papers and records that are invaluable.

In the office of the secretary of state for the two years 317 land grants were issued. There has been paid $3,000 in the two years for indexing grants, a work under the direction of Col. W. P. Batchelor, this work proving much more tedious and vexatious than was anticipated. The sale of Supreme Court reports for two years aggregates $17,482, compared with $7,000 for the two years ending December 1900. The permanent roll of registered voters under the grand clause of the constitutional amendment is reported substantially and systematic by counties in the state. There were charters during 1909 for 1,050 new corporations and in 1910 for 1,058. There were seven charters for railroad companies in 1909 and eleven for 1910. Those for 1910 were: Lumber and Elizabethtown railroad; North & South Carolina Railway; Jackson Railway Co.; Black Mountain Railway Co.; Rockingham Railway Co.; Hemlock Railroad Co.; Roanoke Railroad Co.; Mica Belt Railway Co.; North Carolina-Virginia Railway Co.; Madison County Railway Co.; Micanville-Southern Railway Co.

The secretary of state recommends a consolidation of reports required by the state from corporations and that all reports come to one department of state. Corporations are complaining that present system or lack of system is cumbersome and vexatious. He thinks there should be amendment of the law for the incorporation and management of trust companies. During 1909 26 banks were chartered and during 1910 36. In 1909 33 foreign corporations domesticated and during 1910 51.

MAN VS. WOMAN

Interesting Debate by Young Men of First Baptist Church As to Relative Intellectual Strength of the Two.
Last night in the Sunday school room of the First Baptist church the Baraca Class contended with the Baptist Young People's Union over the question as to whether or not woman has as great intellectual capacity as man. Carrying aloft the colors of the Baraca Class were Messrs. A. H. King and W. M. Combs, while for the B. Y. P. U. Messrs. D. H. Wilcox and T. W. Alderman were the champions. The judges gave their decision in favor of the Baraca Class, whose representatives maintained that man has greater intellectual capacity than woman.

Mr. Vander Liles presided over the debate with dignity and ease and with perfect fairness to the debaters. Each debater was allowed fifteen minutes for his first speech and five minutes for his rejoinder.
All four of the debaters gave a good account of themselves. They had accumulated a vast fund of information, which they dispensed to the thoroughly interested audience in an entertaining and engaging manner, relieving the argumentative passages of their remarks with occasional flashes of humor. That the audience was fond of all the debaters was evidenced by the fact that they generously applauded them at every opportunity.

At the conclusion of the final rejoinder the judges, who were C. W. Jennings, W. C. Jackson and R. W. Haywood, retired to an adjoining room to decide as to the winners of the debate. After a few minutes they returned and Mr. Jennings, as spokesman for the judges, made a humorous talk in which he gently but unmistakably broke the news to the negative that they had lost the fight.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING.

Miss Cain, of Y. W. C. A., Urges That Purchases Be Made Early in the Week.

Have you done your Christmas shopping? December 15 has come and gone, and those who have not done their Christmas shopping cannot be classed among the early shoppers. You cannot shop "early in the season," but there is still a chance to shop "early in the week and early in the day." The last week will be a time of great strain for the salespeople. Young saleswomen have been heard to express their dread of Christmas eve. The Young Women's Christian Association urges that the late shoppers do their shopping in the morning and as early in the week as possible; that only those who are absolutely compelled to do so do any shopping at night; and that none but the thoughtless and inconsiderate enter the stores on Saturday night, Dec. 24th.

Royal Arcanum Officers.

At a meeting of the Royal Arcanum held yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:
J. S. Moore, Regent.
Dr. F. S. Charter, Vice Regent.
O. T. Leonard, Secretary.
Dr. W. W. Rowe, Collector.
R. D. Aiken, Treasurer.
The above-named officers will be installed on the first Friday evening in January. The order is in a prosperous condition and is growing.

Don't forget to put a Red Cross seal on your Christmas package. They are one cent each. Get them at any store selling fancy goods. Every time you use one you help in the war that is being waged on Consumption.

PUBLIC SERVICE CO. VS. CONE CO.

Electricians Defeated Cotton Shippers In Bowling Contest Last Night—The Contest Quite Spirited—Second Contest Soon.

Last night in the Gem Bowling Parlors in an exciting contest a picked team from the Public Service Company defeated the Cone Company team by a score of 105 pins. Three games were bowled, the Electricians taking the first by 46 and the second by 75 pins. The Cotton Men captured the third by 16 pins.

Mr. E. C. Deal made the highest score of 439 pins. Mr. Wooters came second with 435 pins, leading for the Cone boys. Mr. Goodman bowled the first game for the Cone Company, being succeeded by Mr. Sellars. Their total was the lowest of the evening—327. The two teams are anxious for a second contest and it will likely be arranged for this week. The Cone Company were the challengers in last night's event and the team is anxious to have revenge for the defeat administered.

NEW MENTOR FOR SPEAKER

Champ Clark Advised to Secure Son of Late Speaker Crisp.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 16.—The men elected to the Speakership of the House, as a rule, are not noted as experts in the intricacies of Parliamentary law, and generally need at their elbow when presiding, an expert Parliamentarian clerk to guide them aright when some annoying member on the floor raises a point which would almost puzzle Omicron to settle. Speakers Reed, Henderson and Cannon have had as their expert Asher C. Hinds, of Maine, who was elected a member of the House last month and therefore would not be available to Speaker-to-be Clark, even if he were not a Republican.

Speaker-to-be Clark nervously wondering where he would find a successor to Hinds, now thinks he has found his parliamentary sharp, by the help, by the way, of Asher Hinds. The latter has told Clark and other Democratic members that the best-posted man of his acquaintance of the Democratic persuasion is Charles R. Crisp, of Georgia, son of the late Charles F. Crisp, who was Speaker of the House during the Democratic Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses.

Young Crisp made a study of parliamentary law while his father was in the Speaker's chair, and it is probable he will be requested to give up the municipal judgeship he now holds in Atlanta and come to Washington to stand at Speaker Clark's elbow during the next and probably several succeeding Congresses.

Public Service Co. At Home.

The Public Service Company office has donned its Christmas decorations and presents a most inviting appearance. A huge cedar tree has been stationed in the center of the lobby and artistically covered with vari-colored lights, principally red and green. On the tree numerous souvenirs and useful gas cooking utensils have been arranged. It will be "open house" this evening and every person who calls will be given a souvenir and in addition a number. On Christmas eve the person holding the lucky number will be presented with a useful cooking utensil. The public is cordially invited to call this evening.

Cold Wave Has New York In Its Grip.

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 16.—A heavy snowfall, a gale of blizzard proportions and a temperature below zero is causing much suffering throughout northern New York today. The cold snap is the first severe one of the winter. A foot of snow has fallen in the past 24 hours and hundreds of roads are blocked by drifts, cutting off communication with the rural districts. Trains in the northern counties are running with difficulty.

VITAL QUESTIONS ARE CONSIDERED

At Final Session of Civic Association.

Bill Board Nuisances, the Smoke Problem and the Ravages of the Typhoid Fly the Principal Subjects Discussed At Final Session of American Civic Association—Civic Co-operation Essential.

Washington, Dec. 15.—Billboard nuisances, the smoke problem, the ravages of the typhoid fly and the organization of effort to eradicate them for the improvement of community life constituted the general trend of discussion outlined for the closing session of the American Civic Association.

"Civic Co-operation Toward a Clean City" was the subject of the opening address delivered by Mrs. Caroline Bartlett, Crane, of Kalamazoo, Mich. Miss Zona Gale, of Portage, Wis., followed with a paper on "Friendship Village Improvement Society."

In developing the topic, "Legal Control of the Billboard" Clyde L. Day, assistant corporation counsel of Chicago, showed legal methods that may be invoked for the abolition of the billboard. "There is only one phase of the billboard nuisance," says the association's announcement for today's session, "and that is the legal phase, for public sentiment is very marked in opposition to it."

Cyrus Lecher, of the chamber of commerce of Cleveland, O., spoke on "The Smoke Nuisance and the Law," outlining as the method of achieving relief from smoke evils the drafting of ordinances to be adopted after a thorough study of the question.

Dr. L. O. Howard, chief entomologist of the department of agriculture, read a paper on "The Typhoid Fly." Dr. Woods Hutchison answered the question, "Why is a fly?" and Leroy Boughner, of Minneapolis told about "Newspaper as an educational factor against the fly."

MAURETANIA MAKES NEW RECORD

Crosses Atlantic In Fraction Less Than Five Days—Round Trip In Less Than 12 Days.

New York, Dec. 16.—The giant Cunarder Mauretania warped into her dock before sunrise today, ending the first leg of her "mersey-to-mersey" voyage to establish a world's record. The demands of the Christmas season are responsible for the fast run which the Mauretania is making, the steamship bringing no less than 4,613 sacks of Christmas mail and returning with holiday mail for England.

Battling with high seas during the entire voyage, the Mauretania covered the distance from Dauts Rock to Ambrose channel in four days, 20 hours and 7 minutes. Ordinarily the Cunarder would have anchored outside last night but instead came up the channel. Health officers were waiting a quarantine and after an inspection of three quarters of an hour the steamship was released at 2:57 this morning. The customs officers did not board the ship until sunrise, when the passengers were ready to disembark.

The Mauretania sails at 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and in the 37 hours in ports must unload and load thousands of tons of freight and baggage and store 6,200 tons of coal.

The vessel expects to dock at Liverpool next Thursday evening, making the round trip in twelve days, a new record.

FEDERAL COURT ADJOURNS.

Short Session Will Be Held January Fifth—Wall's Sentence Changed.

United States court yesterday adjourned until Thursday, January 5, at which time the Glenn Williams libel suit will be taken up. This case will in all probability consume a week. The jurors, who were excused Thursday, have been notified to be on hand at that time.

The sentence of Marion Wall, who on Friday was sentenced to a year and a day in the federal prison and fined $100, was changed to three months in the county jail, the fine being remitted. Frank Trumble, who was sentenced to two years for raising a $2 bill to $10 and passing it, will be carried to Atlanta Monday by Deputy Marshal Vincent to begin his sentence.

RUNAWAY COUPLE MARRIED YESTERDAY

The Ceremony Was Performed Yesterday Morning At Two Twenty-Five O'clock—Harold O. Burnett and Miss Esther M. Creasy, of Roanoke, the Contracting Parties.

As the hands of the clock in the office of Register of Deeds Rankin registered the time as 2:25 a. m. yesterday Justice of the Peace D. H. Collins spoke the solemn words "I now pronounce you man and wife," etc. The contracting parties were Harold O. Burnett and Miss Esther M. Creasy, of Roanoke, and they declared that the parents of the girl were hot on the trail and it would never do to wait until the officiating justice awoke from his slumbers. They appeared greatly at ease after the ceremony had been performed and left during the forenoon for Roanoke to brave the fury of the bride's people.

Mr. Burnett and Miss Creasy reached the city on No. 29 shortly after midnight and appealed to Sergeant Jones for help. He assisted them in arousing Deputy Roy Jones and Justice Collins and the two accommodatingly braved the chill of the early morning air and wended their way to the court house, appreciating fully the press of time. Officer Patterson was found and induced to become a witness to the transaction. So it was after two o'clock before the papers were made out and the justice was ready to perform the ceremony. The groom gave his age at 27 and the bride stated that she was 19. After the ceremony the newly wedded couple went to Hotel Clegg where they spent the remainder of the night.

THE CHARLESTON PARTY

Arrived on Special Car Yesterday Morning—Shown Over City in Automobiles.

The party of Charlestonians, composed of Mr. J. C. Murchison, superintendent of the southern division of the Atlantic Coast Line, Mayor R. G. Rhett, Commercial Secretary A. W. McKeand, and R. G. Brueschweiler, of the Charleston News and Courier, arrived on a special car in Greensboro yesterday morning at nine o'clock. They were met by a delegation from the Chamber of Commerce, headed by Secretary McLean and Mayor Stafford and were introduced to many leading business men. After being shown over the business section of the city, they were driven in automobiles to White Oak, where they were shown through every department of that great plant by Mr. Caesar Cone. Thence they went out on the High Point road for several miles and back to the Normal College. Here Dr. Foust showed them over the Normal grounds and through the buildings, explaining fully the work of each department.

The visitors expressed themselves as being truly delighted with the city. Mayor Rhett was of the opinion that Greensboro and Winston are the coming towns of the State. He said that the roads of Guilford surpassed any he had seen in North Carolina, and that the Greensboro people should feel proud of their city and county.

The party had but a short stay in Greensboro, but they were entertained in a manner worthy of Greensboro's reputation for genuine hospitality. At 12:50 their private car was attached to the Sanford train, and they departed for Charleston by way of Fayetteville.

APPROPRIATION FOR MISSIONS

Baptists of State Will Raise Fifty Thousand Dollars For Work.

Raleigh, Dec. 16.—The state board of missions composed of prominent Baptist ministers and laymen from all parts of the state were in session here until a late hour last night making the apportionments for the mission work of the denomination the state over and seeing to it that the apportionments are within the limits of the missions fund of $50,000 that the State Baptist Convention has determined to raise for the ensuing year.

Mr. John E. Ray was reelected president of the board and Rev. Livingston Johnson corresponding secretary to the board of missions; E. L. Middleton Sunday school secretary and Rev. W. R. Bradshaw, of Hickory, assistant to Corresponding Secretary Johnson.

Service At Telfair Sanitarium.

The Philathea of the Moravian church will hold a song and prayer service, conducted by their pastor, at Telfair Sanitarium, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Miss Eugenia Patterson will sing. All are invited to be present.

TURKEY DINNER FOR OPERATIVES

Every Family at Mills Will Get Fine Bird.

Nine Hundred and Thirty-five Turkeys To Be Distributed Among the Operatives of Proximity, Revolution and White Oak—Christmas Tree At Each of the Schools and At the Several Sunday Schools—Good Cheer Prevailing.

The Christmas spirit has already pervaded the homes of Proximity, Revolution and White Oak. Not only are the children jubilant at the approach of the happiest season of the year but the heads of families as well. The jubilant faces of the children is natural and when it is known that exactly nine hundred and thirty-five handsome turkeys are now in the hands of Mr. John J. Phoenix and that these same birds will be distributed among the families of the three mill villages next week no surprise will be expressed at the joyful faces of the older people, for there is not a person in Guilford county who would not wear a jovial face if he was certain of receiving a fine bird for his Christmas dinner.

Each Christmas, whether times are good or bad, Mr. Caesar Cone and associates give to each family a turkey for the festive dinner. The task of gathering up the turkeys is no easy one and Mr. John J. Phoenix, to whom this task was assigned, has purchased turkeys from all parts of this State and Virginia. He first had to ascertain how many families there were in the three villages and then he set to work to get the birds. The turkeys have been coming in for the past thirty days and the sight of 935 fine turkeys in one flock is one that cannot easily be forgotten.

The turkeys will be distributed next week as follows: Proximity 445, Revolution 190, White Oak 400; total 935.

The mill schools will close Wednesday for the holidays, there being appropriate exercises at each of the three schools. Following the exercises a Christmas tree will be revealed at each school, laden with gifts prepared by the Messrs. Cone and Sternberger. In addition to the gifts a package of candy and fruits will be given to each child.

Each of the Sunday schools will hold a Christmas entertainment during the Christmas season, at which there will be Christmas trees. No child will be forgotten and every person will feel thankful for the gifts bestowed and thus be in fine condition to enjoy the holidays in the true Christmas spirit.

The mills will close down on Friday or Saturday of next week for the holidays.

CHANGE OF PLACE.

The Laymen's Meeting To Be Held In Friends Meeting House Instead of Centenary Church.

On account of previously arranged service, the Laymen's meeting on tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 will be held in the Friends meeting house, instead of Centenary church. Mr. O. C. Wysong will preside. All laymen are cordially invited to be present. Members of all missionary committees are urged to be present. Following is the program:

Wanted In Pineville.

John Bigers, of Pineville, was arrested yesterday by the police on the charge of forging a name in order to obtain an express package. One of the residents of that city had ordered a package of booze and the negro caught on. When the package arrived Bigers was on the lookout and called for the package, signing the name of the person to whom the liquor was shipped, leaving soon afterwards for Greensboro. The original owner called shortly afterwards and was greatly incensed when he ascertained that the negro had beaten him out of his Christmas dram. Bigers will be carried to Pineville to stand trial.

It is important that Greensboro shall make a good showing, as compared with other North Carolina cities, in the number of Red Cross seals sold here during the holidays.

INSURANCE MEN TAKING NOTICE

Our last Bulletin told how one of the policyholders of the Prudential Insurance Company living in Detroit, Mich., Mrs. D. R. Johnstone of 109 Jones street, was bedridden with Bright's Disease and death was expected when she was put on the Renal Compound. She made a full recovery and saved the payment of a loss. This resulted in another policyholder of the Prudential Ins. Co. in the same city, who was nearly down and out with Bright's Disease, being put on the treatment. At last advice this case, too, was going right.

We now have a letter from a Sacramento man in which he says: "I am in the life insurance business and once in a while the Doctor has to 'pass up' a prospect. Since I know that your Compound is a wonder, why can't I put these people on it and fit them for examination. I will say that I may present you with a bill for $8,000,000 for the praise I have given your Compound." He is not the first party who has seen this opportunity. One of the State of Nevada came to see us and outlined a proposition to establish an insurance company to insure the lives of people having Bright's Disease and Diabetes, charging double the ordinary rates and putting them on this treatment. Numbers have been fitted for insurance, although some of them were actually in extremis. For instance, in our pamphlet will be found the case of Mrs. R. Lester Bell, of Auburn, N. Y., who was in the Auburn Hospital and was expected to die during the week when put on Fulton's Renal Compound. One year from that time she passed for life insurance.

The case of Chas. P. Wacker, the 6th street merchant of San Francisco, also comes to mind in this connection. He did not think he could live but a few months, and was nearly down and out with diabetes when put on Fulton's Renal Compound. He later passed for $5,000.00 life insurance.

An interesting fact in Wacker's case was that a bereavement set up a nervous condition that caused the disease to reappear and he was very much discouraged, due to the fear that he had not been cured. However he went on the Compound again and made the second recovery and now looks like an athlete. And this was all several years ago, showing that the results are real.

We are pleased to see the Insurance people sitting up and taking notice. The large insurance Companies will ultimately realize that they can save hundreds of thousands of dollars by having their agents advise policy-holders who have these diseases of the genuineness of this treatment. Moreover, it is humane.

For Bright's Disease, Fulton's Renal Compound is the one used. For Diabetes, Fulton's Diabetes Compound. It can be had in your city at Pariss-Klutts Drug Co. Literature mailed free. Address John J. Fulton Co., 645 Battery St., San Francisco, Cal. We desire to hear from and advise with every case not making the usual recovery.

"CROWN OF DIAMONDS"

Facts About the Jeweled Brooch Mrs. Eddy Bequeathed to Mrs. Stetson.

New York Sun.

One of the most interesting things about this codicil is that it gives to Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, of New York, the piece of jewelry known as the "Crown of Diamonds." It is in the form of a large brooch, more than two inches in diameter, and is one of the most valuable pieces of jewelry which Mrs. Eddy possessed. This bequest comes as somewhat of a surprise to Christian Scientists, especially as the beneficiary is now excommunicated from the Church. It is said that Mrs. Eddy, in fact, had an abiding affection for Mrs. Stetson and that the outcome of her difficulties in the church was not brought about by Mrs. Eddy's doings, or at her bidding. Although this costly jewel was set apart for Mrs. Stetson before her relations with the church became strained it is said that Mrs. Eddy was mentally capable long after the trouble of making another codicil striking Mrs. Stetson's name from the list of those favored by her will.

Under the same first codicil Mrs. Laura Lathrop, the pioneer to carry Christian Science from Boston to New York, gets the "Cross of Diamonds." This is considered a precious memento, as it was evidently the favorite jewel of Mrs. Eddy. She always wore it at her throat, and several of her photographs show this cross. The cross is about three inches in length. It is said that this cross was still upon Mrs. Eddy's breast when her spirit passed on. Not because of its intrinsic value but by reason of its hallowed associations this would be considered the most valuable thing which Mrs. Eddy possessed and would mean more to one who received it than its actual money value many times over.

Another valuable keepsake known as the "Portrait set with diamonds," the portrait of Mrs. Eddy, was under this codicil left to Gen. Henry M. Baker, executor. This portrait is known to most of the Scientist who have ever enjoyed any degree of intimacy in Mrs. Eddy's household and is considered a rare and costly production. It is said that Mrs. Stetson for quite a time had the custody of this portrait, and on one occasion when she visited this city she exhibited it to several who called upon her at the Eagle Hotel, where she was quartered at the time.

Mrs. D. Gilkeson, 328 Ingles Ave., Youngstown, Ohio, gained wisdom by experience. "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat and after using only one bottle her throat and lungs were entirely free from inflammation. Since then I always keep a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar in the house. Accept no substitutes. Howard Gardner.

ROD AND LINE WON.

Contest Between a Strong Swimmer and an Expert Angler.

A novel contest took place some time ago at the Edinburgh corporation baths between one of the strongest swimmers in Scotland and a well known angler. The contest occurred in a pool eighty feet long and forty feet wide.

The angler was furnished with an eleven foot trolling rod and an undressed silk line. The line was fixed to a girth belt, made expressly for the purpose, by a swivel immediately between the shoulders of the swimmer at the point where he had the greatest pulling power.

In the first trial the line snapped. In the second the angler gave and played without altogether slackening line, and several porpoise dives were well handled. The swimmer then tried cross swimming from corner to corner, but ultimately was beaten, the match ending with a victory for the rod and line.

Another contest took place in which the angler employed a very light trout rod ten feet long and weighing only six and one-half ounces, the line being the same as that used with the trolling rod. The swimmer, whose aim evidently was to smash the rod, pulled and leaped into the water. He was held steadily, however, and in about five minutes was forced to give in. The rod was again successful. At the finish both competitors were almost exhausted.

Take Care!

Remember that when your kidneys are affected your life is in danger. M. May, Rochester, N. Y., says: "My trouble started with a sharp shooting pain over my back which grew worse daily. I felt sluggish and tired, my kidney action was irregular and infrequent. I started using Foley's Kidney Pills. Each dose seemed to put new life and strength into me, and now I am completely cured and feel better and stronger than for years." Howard Gardner.

She Hadn't Noticed It.

"The great trouble," he complained "is that we can't get as much for our money as we used to." "Why," she replied, "I hadn't noticed it. We still get gum for 5 cents a package."—Chicago Record-Herald.

THE HANDIEST CHRISTMAS PRESENT TO SEND.

Everyone knows the expense and worry of getting Christmas packages off. Wallace Clothing Company has a way to avoid this expense. They can supply you with "Christmas orders" for Regal shoes and supplies. These orders are handsomely and ornamentally printed in Christmas colors. They are redeemable at any one of the 2,000 stores where Regal shoes and supplies are sold and are absolutely guaranteed.

Men love useful presents. They don't want gewgaws. Send your brother, son, uncle, father a "Christmas Order" for a pair of Regal shoes. Every time he puts them on he will feel like congratulating you on the good sense you displayed in selecting his Christmas present.

The foregoing possibly does not make clear to you all the advantages of a "Christmas Order." Whether we have or whether we have not, we want you to come in and let us show them to you and explain fully the convenience and appropriateness of sending a "Christmas Order" as a gift. NIGHT 1442

TURNED IN

A Yankee Soldier's Christmas in the Confederacy.

By FREDERICK B. WINSTON

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

On the 23d of December, 1864, a carload of Federal prisoners of war were being taken south from Richmond in a box car, the object being to get them away from Grant's approaching army. One of the boys had stolen a case knife and another had picked up a part of a rusty file. With the file they made a saw of the knife and managed to cut away enough of the flooring of the car to let a man through. During the night while the car was stationary Tom Atherton and another prisoner named Murdock dropped through this hole and attempted to escape. Murdock was shot, but Tom got away.

The next afternoon Tom was hiding in a wood near a North Carolina plantation. It was a pine wood with an undergrowth of evergreens. Tom, overcome with exhaustion, had gone to sleep among the undergrowth. He was awakened by a shriek. Sitting up, he saw standing before him a girl who had evidently been much frightened. Under one arm she held a bundle of evergreens and in her right hand a knife. Tom arose, hatless, almost coatless and minus the seat and knees of his trousers. His toes protruded from one shoe, while the other was gone entirely.

"I surrender," he said, throwing up his hands. "Goodness gracious!" was the girl's only response.

"What are you going to do with me?" asked Tom. "Do with you?"

"Yes. Being unarmed, I'm at your mercy, you having that cold steel in your hand."

"Who are you?" "A Yankee escaped from prison. I'm played out. Nothing to eat for two days, cold and not enough clothing to keep me warm. I might as well surrender to you as any one. What are you doing out here with that knife and those evergreens?"

"Cutting evergreens for Christmas." "Christmas?"

"Yes. Don't you know that tomorrow will be Christmas?" "I don't even know what month it is."

"Isn't that awful?" "I wonder if mother and Mollie and Sue are decorating at home," said Tom musingly. "I suppose you're a rebel girl."

"Of course I am." "Well, then, you might as well turn me in at once. I couldn't have gone through another night in this wood. I'd be starved by morning."

"All right. Come with me." The girl pointed the way and, falling in behind Tom, marched him to her home. It was growing dark when they entered a large plantation house, and those within were just lighting the lamps.

"Go in there," said the girl, opening the door of a room, "and stay there till I turn you in."

Tom remained alone for awhile, when she came in again and said, "Come."

"Are you going to turn me in?" he asked. "Yes."

She led Tom upstairs and turned him into a room in the center of which was a tub of water. On a chair was a suit of clothes, including a pair of shoes.

"You call this turning me in?" said Tom. "Yes—for the present."

Tom bathed, put on the clothes, which fitted him tolerably, and went downstairs. The girl was waiting for him in the hall.

"Well," he said, "I'm ready to be turned in now. I shall give you the credit for my capture."

"Thank you. Go in there."

She pointed to an open door, and Tom half expected to find some one beyond it with a musket waiting for him. He was much pleased to see a table with candelabra on it.

"Well, now," he said, smiling all over, "this is being 'turned in' in a way I like."

Unfortunately for Tom there were few good things to eat in the south at the time, but he got the best there was in the house. The girl waited on him and when he had finished the meal said to him:

"Tomorrow will be Christmas. Father is fighting your people at Petersburg, mother is ill, and I'm going to make as much of Christmas as possible for the children. I wish you to help me, even if you are a Yankee. It will be time enough to turn you in after Christmas is over."

Considering the paucity of the resources at hand, Tom Atherton passed the most enjoyable Christmas of his life. After it was all over the girl said to him, evidently with much reluctance:

"Well, as a true Confederate girl I suppose it's my duty to turn you in now."

"All right," said the prisoner. "I'll make no resistance." But Tom remained on the plantation for months. One day a man on horseback dashed by the house, shouting:

"Petersburg's gone up." "That ends your Confederacy," said Tom. And it did.

The next Christmas after that Tom's father turned the Confederate girl into a brown stone dwelling house, a bridal and Christmas gift to his son's wife.

Every Christmas she tells this story to her grandchildren.

HEALTHY PLANTS

Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

Did you ever see a rosebush which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil—of sunshine—and of atmosphere—seemed never to achieve a healthy growth?

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart. You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vasoline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out. Newbro's Herpicide destroys the germ, and healthy hair is the sure result.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

One dollar bottles guaranteed.

The Richmond Journal and the Richmond News-Leader are having a war of words over their respective circulations, when as a matter of fact they haven't either one enough circulation to brag about.

The government is keeping up its warfare on "get rich quick" concerns. It is the standing wonder of the ages that people have to be protected against these concerns. But for the amazing success they have in carrying out their nefarious schemes one would never dream that there are so many suckers.

The Hobson way of promoting peace is to build battleships with which to enforce it. And just think! That ten millions given by Uncle Andy Carnegie the other day for peace purposes would build just one battleship! Sure as you live, Mr. Hobson has got it down wrong. There surely is some less expensive way to procure peace than the battleship way. There is just obliged to be, in the very nature of the case.

The Kentucky Court of Appeals decides that if a railway company carries whiskey into a local option district as baggage and without receiving any pay other than the price of the passenger's ticket, no indictment can be returned for shipping whiskey into local option territory. Perhaps not. But where the railroad's contention falls down is that it can't carry whiskey as baggage for the very good reason that whiskey isn't baggage. If words are to have no meaning, manifestly effective laws cannot be passed.

A contemporary regards Dix, of New York, as a Presidential possibility. Democrats generally are rejoicing that Mr. Dix, a Democrat, was elected Governor of New York. But we fancy that there are but a few who think him a suitable man for President. A quiet, unassuming and fairly successful business man, totally unversed in statecraft, he is not disqualified from giving New York a business-like and successful administration. But in a President of the United States you want something more than a well developed faculty for business.

Secretary of War Dickinson erred egregiously in his effort to submit to a House of more than four hundred a "confidential" report.—Richmond Virginian.

One has but to look at the picture of Secretary Dickinson as printed many times when he was visiting Japan and China some months ago to see that there is about him something strongly suggestive of a bull in a china shop. The veriest tyro in governmental affairs would have seen the ridiculousness of sending a "confidential communication" to a body of four hundred men. Why, the fact of the business is, four hundred women couldn't keep a secret, let alone four hundred men.

Lafayette Young is the successor of the late Senator Dolliver of Iowa in the United States Senate. He takes the opposite view of the tariff question from that entertained by Senator Dolliver. The latter was a pronounced tariff-reformer. Young is an equally pronounced standpatter. He says that the tariff cannot be tinkered with without hurting business and that therefore the tariff should be let eternally alone. Of course business is important, but it is not as important as right and justice and the majority of the people in this country appear to believe that the tariff as now administered is unjust to the great body of the people. Plainly the State of Iowa and the country at large suffered decidedly when a man like Dolliver was succeeded by a man like Young.

While it would appear that Greensboro has a multiplicity of clubs, still we suspect that there is quite a big field for the newest club—the After School Club. The object of this club is, as we understand it, to provide mothers with the knowledge of the latest and most approved methods of rearing and training children. It is a lamentable fact that some mothers give their children very little attention. It is equally true that some mothers spoil their children by giving them too much attention. The purpose of the After School Club is to show both classes of mothers the mistake they have been making. Families are not happy in which the children do not turn out well. The After School Club proposes to interest the responsible heads of families so deeply in their children that the chances of those children failing to develop into noble men and women are reduced to a minimum. We are inclined to think that when this newest club gets well under way, interest in some of the other numerous clubs will be seen to diminish.

THE PLATFORM OF THE AFTER SCHOOL CLUB

That Adopted by Local Organization the Same As That of National Club.

At a meeting of the After School Club held Thursday afternoon a platform was adopted, which is identical with that of the national organization. It is given below in full, in order that mothers, teachers, and all who are interested in child training may learn just what the club stands for.

The After School Club Platform.

(1) The keynote to social progress lies in the development of the child and in our day as in no other the world has yet seen, we need to give heed to the nature and spirit of youth.

(2) The mother's business—that of making men and women—is the most important of all pursuits, and the one calling for which the greatest training is needed.

(3) Our young people who are growing up will take their places in society largely as their parents give them opportunity.

(4) The home is the primary sphere of education and character building. The school can do much in the development of the child, but it can never usurp the function of the home for it is there that the strongest emotional factors come into force. The teacher is or should be only the parent's helper.

(5) The education of a child is a continuous process from the day of birth, and fortunately haphazard theories are giving way to scientific methods. The day has passed when the maternal instinct is considered sufficient for bringing up babies and training children. Recognition of the value of the science of child study is spreading rapidly.

(6) The child is the most precious of all materials, and mistakes arising from ignorance of the nature of the child may be fraught with incalculable and never-ending evils. Any wrong treatment in the early years of life leaves indelible traces, and the unskillful parent is prone to leave, as it were, ugly finger-marks on the soft and impressionable temperament of the child. For this reason child study should have been one of the first subjects instead of the last to be seriously investigated.

(7) The boy or girl should have change from the strain or tedium of school work through delightful recreation; the way to keep out evil is to fill the mind and time with wholesome thoughts and occupations.

(8) One of the most potent factors in character building is to give even small children a sense of dignity and manhood, which can only come from true comradeship with a grown person of lofty ideals who instinctively reaches the child's own plane of thought and interests.

(9) While the significance of the home in the formation of character has never been questioned, the important task of organizing the forces of home training and compiling the most valuable results of experience and investigation in this field has only recently been undertaken.

(10) To provide the best possible home influences and helps is a responsibility no parent can afford to disregard, for the foundation of a life is laid in the first years of training.

The Gold Dust Was There.
North America has counted as a gold producing continent only since the late forties. But it might well have done so for about 200 years. According to the London Chronicle, in the voyage round the world which began in 1719 the privateer Captain Shelvocke found in certain California valleys "a rich black mold which, as you turn it fresh up to the sun, appears as if intermingled with gold dust. Though we were a little prejudiced," he adds, "against the thought that it could be possible that this metal should be so promiscuously and universally mingled with common earth, yet we endeavored to cleanse and wash the earth from some of it, and the more we did the more it appeared like gold. In order to be further satisfied I brought away some of it, which we lost in our confusion in China."

Ate Himself Thin.
A terribly emaciated man, about thirty-five years of age, was eating four meals a day, including a heavy breakfast. He was also taking milk between meals. I induced him to give up the milk between meals and to take only a cup of weak tea for breakfast. At once his weight began to increase. It is now normal. Obviously it was a case not only of ordinary mental worry, but also of worry and overwork of the millions of cell lives within him. He gave the cells and organs a rest and at once there was a storage of energy and weight.—Metropolitan Magazine.

Linked Before and After.
Having entered the church at Regensburg, in Germany, for the purpose of being married and taken his place beside the bride, a man named Wahl, who seems to have been of a somewhat nervous disposition, suddenly rushed out of the building, took a cab to the station and jumped into a moving train. We have always maintained that the bridegroom should be handcuffed to the best man until the conclusion of the ceremony. It is foolish to take unnecessary risks.—London Globe.

Happiness.
"There is an instinct in the heart of man which makes him fear a cloudless happiness. It seems to him that he owes to misfortune a title of his life, and that which he does not pay bears interest, is amassed and largely swells a debt which sooner or later he must acquit."

Her Long Dream.
Estelle—Ah! His proposal was just like a dream!
Agnes—Well, you ought to know, dear. You've been dreaming of that proposal for years.

It isn't till a colt is old enough to be shod that it is really on its metal.

Charged With Trespass.

Before Justice Collins yesterday afternoon Edwin Long and Cecil Earl, white boys claiming Huntington, Va., as their home, and Thomas Harris, an Atlanta negro, were given a hearing on the charge of trespass. They were originally charged with beating a ride on the trains and larceny, but the warrant was amended. They were sent to the workhouse to work out a fine of $15 each and costs.

Macon Wants Capitol.

Macon, Ga., Dec. 16.—A campaign fund of $20,000 is now available for use of the central capital association for the purpose of agitating the question of removing the state capital from Atlanta to Macon. Well known speakers will be sent to every county in the state by the committee, and efforts will be made to develop sentiment in favor of Macon as the site for the capital.

After the Street Lamps.

The street lamps, which were due to have arrived here by Dec. 15, have not yet arrived. The General Electric Company has sent a representative here and he is following the shipment up in order that the lamps may arrive at the earliest moment. The shipment should have reached here two days ago and there is a $20 per day forfeit on the shipment.

Dr. Cook Will Appear in New York. New York, Dec. 16.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Brooklyn explorer, has sent word to his friends here that he will re-appear next week following his self-imposed exile of one year. Dr. Cook will arrive from Europe probably on next Wednesday.

Why Not a Piano Now in Your Home?

There Is No Reason Why You Shouldn't Have a Piano. We Can Supply Your Needs

The sale of pianos increases each season in our warerooms. Music lovers are realizing that a piano is a necessity in the home. For the children to study—to keep the young folks home—to add an air of refinement.

You have the choice here from a magnificent stock, and no matter what you want, we can supply you.

You can buy the famous Kimball, Hallet & Davis, Conway, Whitney, and other well-known pianos here at reasonable prices and on convenient terms, a little each month or week. Do not deny yourself what you want most.

ABOUT PRICES. If you want the best you can buy at $280, we have such a piano. Or if you wish to pay less, we can supply you. Then, $300 will buy a famous Conway or Whitney, while the highest grade pianos—Kimball and Hallet & Davis—sell from $365 up.

Drop a line for our catalogues and book on piano construction, or, better still, come in and examine the stock. Learn the advantages of our system of marking each piano with the lowest possible price tag.

"JUS' SUPPOSIN'"

(Communicated.)

We take things so as a matter of course in this world, so by habit that the miracles which are going on around us day by day don't mean any more to us than sunrise. We don't give them a thought; but, for instance—

Suppose by some great catastrophe of nature all electricity should cease some night at the mystic hour of twelve, that the giant water wheels and steam engines should continue to whirl the huge generators but not an ampere of electricity would flow along the miles and miles of transmission wires.

Just suppose such a thing to be.

Your efforts to turn on the electric lights in the morning would be a dark and dismal failure. You would shave by feel. The toaster on the breakfast table wouldn't work, and you would have to tap on a glass to call the maid because the buzzer was dead.

You would wait in vain for a street car to take you to the office because the cars could not move an inch. A hasty walk would take you over to your friend, Brown's, but his electric door bell would not ring. By pounding on the door you finally summon him and ask to be taken down town in his auto. He is perfectly willing but the machine cannot be budged because the igniter, which depends upon an electric spark, will not work.

Then you try to telephone in to explain your delay, but to your astonishment even this will not respond. A cab summoned by a small boy takes you slowly down town and leaves you in front of a tall office building in a mob of people jostling each other as they hurry to their work—all of them late. The motor-driven elevator is idle. After climbing seven flights of stairs you never knew existed, you enter the office and throw open all the windows, for the electric ventilating fans are not running. An effort to start the desk fan is also fruitless. Your urgent telegrams come back with the explanation that wires are "down." After all the important letters are written, you learn that the steam trains are not running. This puzzles you not a little until you find out that the complicated electric signal systems are not working and without them it is unsafe to run a single train along the tracks.

A riot starts in the street, but the police cannot be called from the patrol box. A fire breaks out a few blocks away, but the fire department does not respond, until a messenger has driven in haste to the nearest fire station and told them of the disaster. No electrically-operated police or fire alarms are working in the city.

Industry after industry would be without power and thousands would be thrown out of employment. The dentist could not fill teeth; the physicians could not use the X-ray or other electrical apparatus; the artisans could not run their small motor-driven machinery until the old foot power was restored. The printing presses, driven by motors would stop, and every motor-driven convenience would refuse to do its work.

The compass would not work and it would be impossible to sail the seas. All communications from place to place and from nation to nation would cease. There would be no daily newspapers. Steamships would cease to be in communication with each other and the mainland. The city streets would be in total darkness every night until oil and gas lamps could be substituted.

And prices—Where wouldn't the "cost of living" jump to?

Electricity is so identified with every industry and the preparation of every product that the prices of nearly everything to eat, wear, read, or use would be seriously advanced. Nearly all water power developments would be worthless, incurring a loss of billions. Coal would advance a hundred per cent in price. Steam engines would be the only form of power available for large industries, and the price of everything would go up accordingly.

How many appreciate what a constant slave, electricity has become to every man, woman and child?

Banks On Sure Thing Now.

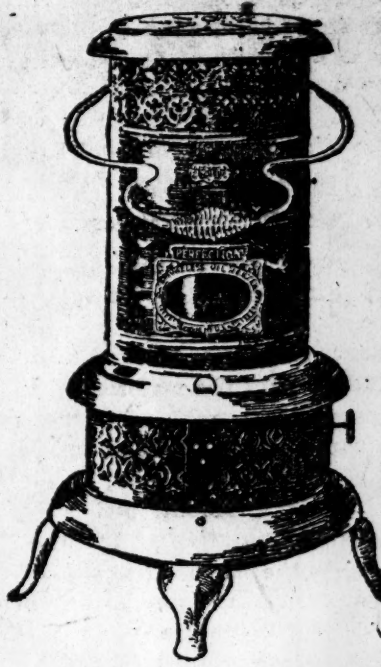

"I'll never be without Dr. King's New Life Pills again," writes A. Schlegel, 647 Elm St., Buffalo, N. Y. "They cured me of chronic constipation when all others failed." Unequaled for Biliousness, Jaundice, Indigestion, Headache, Chills, Malaria and Debility. 25c. at Farris-Klutz Drug Co.

Even the man who always wants to get to the top hesitates to take an upper berth in a sleeping car.

Wants To Help Some One.

For thirty years J. F. Boyer, of Fertile, Mo., needed help and couldn't find it. That's why he wants to help some one now. Suffering so long himself he feels for all distress from Backache, Nervousness, Loss of Appetite, Lassitude and Kidney disorders. He shows that Electric Bitters work wonders for such troubles. "Five bottles," he writes, "wholly cured me and now I am well and hearty." It's also positively guaranteed for Liver Trouble, Dyspepsia, Blood Disorders, Female Complaints and Malaria. Why Suffer?

Are you one of the thousands of women who suffer from female ailments? If so, don't be discouraged, go to your druggist and get a bottle of Wine of Cardui. On the wrapper are full directions for use.

During the last half century, Cardui has been established in thousands of homes, as a safe remedy for pain which only women endure. It is reliable, contains no harmful ingredients and can be depended on in almost any case.

Take
CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. Charles Bragg, of Sweetser, Ind., tried Cardui. She writes: "Tongue cannot tell how much Cardui has done for me. Before I began taking Cardui I could not do a day's work. I would work awhile and lie down. I shall always give praise to your medicine." Try Cardui.

Thought Me Was a Deer.

"Why do you shoot at me?"
"Took you for a deer."
"Didn't you see my red coat?"
"Yes, and I thought it odd that a deer should be wearing a red coat."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

You Must Read This if You Want the Benefit.

J. W. Greer, Greenwood, La., suffered with a severe case of lumbago. "The pains were so intense I was forced to hypodermic injections for relief. These attacks started with a pain in the small of my back which gradually became fairly paralyzing. My attention was attracted to Foley's Kidney Remedy and I am glad to say after using this wonderful medicine I am no longer bothered in any way by my old enemy lumbago." Howard Gardner.

Got It Back.

Beneath the moon he told his love.
The color left her cheeks;
But on the shoulder of his coat
It showed up plain for weeks.

THE BALD-HEADED MAN

Baltimore Evening Sun.

The exact sciences war perpetually upon the oldest and most revered of human axioms. The axiom that whiskey in unlimited quantity is a sure cure for snake bite has been lately disposed of, for example, by the pathologists of the Public Health Service, who offer proof that after .752 of a quart has been imbibed all further swigs do more harm than good. Again, the Wisconsin Bureau of Agriculture has blasted the axiom that farming is the most laborious work in the world, simply by showing that the average Wisconsin farmer, even at the height of the harvest, never works more than 8.43 hours a day,
and that in the dead of winter he often loafs 21.34 hours out of the 24. Yet again, an "eminent English psychologist" quoted by the Chicago Inter-Ocean has just driven his spear through the axiom that women have no love for bald-headed men. There is, he says, no truth in it whatever. As a matter of fact, bald-headed bachelors are highly esteemed, and their chances of being ensnared are to those of ordinary men as 1,456,721 is to 1.

Why? Simply because a bald-headed man, whatever his defects as a work of art, always has an air of "sedate-ness, prosperity and dignified learning." He seems to be beyond the follies of youth; he is safe and sane; sur-fering has given him gentleness and a sense of humor. A bald murderer is unknown to criminology, but bald millionaires are common. The fact that bald-headed men are great patrons of musical comedy and like to sit in the front row and smirk at the girls—this fact signifies nothing, for they go home quietly when the curtain rings down,
and are never seen at the stage door,
and never marry the choristers they fas-cinate.

The bald-headed bachelor is always a gentleman. He is "not silly, like the younger men." "He is usually a man of property." (We quote the ladies consulted by the eminent psychologist.)
"The bald patch looks so clean and nice that one yearns to kiss it." "He accepts refusals of marriage so nicely." "Aye, and proposals, too! No wonder the fair ones love him!"

Boys you have a chance now to win the bicycle. One half of the Mother's Joy has been sold, at the Greensboro Drug Co. We are going to give two watches also, one to the next highest boy's sales, and one to the third highest, and the bicycle to the highest. Greensboro Drug Co.

A GROTESQUE BIRD.

Remarkable Assortment of Colors of the Brazilian Toucan.

The very peculiar looking Brazilian bird, the toucan, has a body about as big as that of a good sized parrot, but its beak is very different and easily its dominant feature, though this bird is by no means lacking in bright and striking colors. The toucan's beak is half as long as its body, and it is broad and thin and set on edge vertically.
shaped something like a blunted scythe, with the slightly curving, rounded edge on top and ending with a hook point turned downward—a remarkable beak in size and shape—and this beak is tinted with a remarkable assortment of colors, purple and red and green and yellow, while around the beak at the head runs a line of black.

The eyes of the toucan are surrounded by circles of a bright light blue, and on its breast, regularly outlined, is a broad and deep expanse of bright yellow in size and shape in proportion to the bird about the same as the generous expanse of shirt front shown by a man in evening dress with his waistcoat cut low and well rounded out at the bottom, this show of yellow being edged with a red line. The toucan's body for the bulk of it is black or a very deep blue black, but around at the base of the tail run two bands of color, one red and one white.

It is not a song bird. It is sold as a pet, not for children, but to adults, and it is more often fancied by men than by women. It takes $25 to $50 to buy a toucan.—New York Sun.

Saved From Awful Death.

How an appalling calamity in his family was prevented is told by A. D. Mche writes, "she was very thin and pale,

had no appetite and seemed to grow weaker every day, as all remedies failed, till Dr. King's New Discovery was tried, and so completely cured her, that she has not been troubled with a cough since.
Its the best medicine I ever saw or heard of." For coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhage-all bronchial troubles, it has no equal, 50c, $1.00. Trial

Any New Method?

"Ain't it strange, th' way Kelly beats dread to the household. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the

TONS OF CANDY FOR THE COKE REGION CHILDREN

Fifty Thousand One-Pound Boxes of Sweets From an Ally of the Steel Trust.

Uniontown, Pa., Dec. 16.—Planning for the biggest treat ever given in Western Pennsylvania, General Superintendent John Lynch, of the Union Supply Company, has ordered 25 tons of candy, in 50,000 one-pound boxes, to be distributed among that many boys and girls around the works of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, an allied corporation of the United States Steel Trust.

Dull conditions prevail throughout the coke regions this year, and hundreds of families cannot afford to observe Christmas, even in a small manner, so it was decided to make the most elaborate treat ever known here and spread Christmas cheer broadcast through three counties.

The distribution will take place Monday, December 26, and Santa Claus will appear promptly at 9 o'clock at every coke plant. Boys and girls, old men and old women and whoever desires to get in line will receive a pound package of candy.

Novel features of amusement will be introduced, business will be entirely suspended and holiday enjoyment will reign supreme.

Calendar Committee To Meet. Lawyers will meet at clerk's office Saturday, Dec. 17, at 3:30 p. m. to set calendar for January civil term. Dec. 16, 1910.

JAMES T. MOREHEAD,
Chairman.

Jack Sheppard as a Text. Jack Sheppard had a great hold upon the imagination of the people of his time. The fact that 200,000 people witnessed his execution at Tyburn on Nov. 18, 1724, "upon the tree that bears twelve times a year" is some witness to his grim popularity. But one of the strangest tributes ever paid him was the sermon preached upon him in a London church.

"Oh, that ye were all like Jack Sheppard," began the preacher, to the stupefaction of his congregation. He went on to draw a parallel between things of the flesh and those of the soul and to point out that the genius shown in housebreaking might have been bestowed upon "picking the locks of the heart with the nail of repentance."—London Standard.

Sure on One Point. "Do you believe that great wealth has a tendency to keep a man out of heaven?" queried the party who was addicted to the conundrum habit. "I am not prepared to express an opinion on that subject," answered the student of human nature, "but I know that great wealth has kept many a man out of the penitentiary."—Chicago News.

Stuttered Out the Child's Name. Flannery—it seems his full name is Dennis K. K. Casey. What's all this K's for? Finnegan—Nothin'. 'Twas the fault of his godfather stutterin' when he tried to say "Dennis Casey."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Also It Uses Up Gold. "Did you ever notice how a ring is like the marriage obligation?" "No. How do you mean?" "A ring is more easily put on than it is taken off."—Boston Transcript.

Musical Note. A newspaper says of a recent operatic performance, "The ladies, the baritone and the bass were good, and so were the tenor's intentions!"

Every good deed performed is not only a present pleasure, but a support for the future.

Love may be blind, but it is very keen to the sense of touch.

Ladies' Coat Suits

We have just received twenty-five ladies' coat suits. There's hardly any use to tell you that these are exceptionally good values or they would not have been sent to us so late in the season. These suits are worth from $20 to $30 each. You may take your choice while they last at $12.50 and a good many at $10 each.

IT IS ALL RIGHT

to ask a friend to do you a favor when it is impossible to secure the favor in any other way. But why ask a friend to go on your bond as surety when the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company can give better security than an individual at no extra cost for its faithful discharge of its duty as a trustee or executor or administrator. Why should you sign a bond by which your heirs, executors, administrators and assigns are held and firmly bound to pay for the default of others; perhaps after your death, every dollar of your estate? Tell your friend not to burden you with such a grave responsibility. Let the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company become responsible.

Talk this over with us—it will assist you.
